BID OPENING SIGN ON SYSTEM (BOSS) COMING FALL 2019

The Civil Rights Division has been working with ITD to create a new online system for DBE subcontractors to create and submit their quotes (to primes and the NDDOT), non-DBE subcontractors to either upload or create/submit their quotes (to primes and the NDDOT) and for Prime contractors to submit their required DBE and/or Good Faith Efforts (GFE) documentation to the NDDOT. The system is in its developmental stage and likely won't be ready for testing until this winter/spring with the hopes of rolling it out for use in the fall of 2019. None of the required processes or documentation in the DBE Special Provisions will be changing, rather the mechanism in which you complete those tasks will be electronic and more streamlined.

For DBE and non-DBE subcontractors the site will be secure so that only those you identify within the system to share your quote information with will receive it. When DBEs create their quote in the system it allows for NDDOT to better track spec and code quoted so we can then use that data to set attainable DBE goals on future projects and calculate the Departments triennial DBE goal. A non-DBE subcontractor may just upload a copy of their quote similarly to the way they are currently emailed/faxed or they may also create their quote through the system and send that if they choose to.

For Primes all quotes received through the system will be easily accessible and all in one location. DBE quotes will be clearly identified as to alleviate the chances of missing addressing a DBE quote received. After the bid opening the system will prompt the apparent low bidder (ALB) with the appropriate tasks accordingly. For example, if there was a DBE goal on the project and it was not met the system would prompt the ALB to submit their GFE requirements. If a Form C is required the system will prompt the Prime to send it to the appropriate firm and that firm would get a notification that it is pending and is then able to review and approve it by signing electronically or return it to the Prime with changes if necessary.

This is a very brief overview of the system but we wanted to make you aware that it is in development and will be coming in the future. We have worked with Primes, subs and DBEs in the developmental phase and hope to have some testing/real life application meetings with them when the system is accessible. We plan to have plenty of training available prior to implementation and want to make the process as smooth as possible for everyone.
